AN ORIGINAL PLOT.

A slight farce, which has proved an immense success at the Odeon in Paris, has the merit of a really original motif. Doctor Borguilus is a philanthropist, who has vowed eternal hatred against the penalty of death and the executioner. Not content in his horror of capital punishment with saving the life of a wretched highway robber who was going to be hanged, he took him to his house, pampered and petted him, and was about to make him his son-in-law, when, just as the worthy doctor thought his protege completely reformed, the fellow stole everything he could lay his hands on, and ran away. The doctor, disenchanted and furiously angry, called down avenging thunders on the head of the atrocious malefactor. At this moment a young man arpears, and proffers his suit for the hand of the disappointed philanthrepist's beautiful daughter. 'Who are you?' asked the doctor. "The executioner,' replied the suitor. "The executioner! the very man I want!' cries the doctor, who instantly agreed to the marrage of his heiress with the new comer, who is no executioner, but has long paid his addresses to her secretly.

CIVIL RIGHTS.

'But wherever else you work don't forget to work among the women. Go after the women then. * * And don't hesitate to throw your arms around their necks now and then when their husbands are not around, and give them a good——. They all like it. * * * Our experience with female rebs is, that with all their sins they have a vast amount of human nature, and only want to have it appreciated to be the most loving creatures imaginable. Scalawags and carpet-baggers don't fail, therefore, as you canvass the State, to look after the women.'—Raleigh Standard.

'Did it never occur to you, ye gentlemen of education, property and character, to you, ye men and especially ye women, who never received anything from these colored people but services, kindness and protection—did it never occur to you that these same people, who are so very bad, will not be willing to sleep in the cold when your houses are denied them, merely because they will not vote as you do? That they may not be willing to starve, while they are willing to work for bread? Did it never occur to you that revenge, which is so sweet to you, may be as sweet to them? Hear us, if nothing else you will hear, did it never occur to you, that if you kill their children with hunger, they will kill your children with fear? Did it never occur to you, that if you good people maliciously determine that they shall have no shelter, they may determine that you shall have no shelter?'—Tod R. Caldwell.

'The Governor has power to suspend all civil law as it was suspended in 1865.'—W. W. Holden.

The spy bill was passed in this year.

The Shofner Bill was introduced into the Legislature. In advocating this bill Radical Senator Cook, from Johnston county, said it ought to pass, because if it became a law men accused 'could be tried by drum-head court-martial and shot.'

The painting or di-guise act was passed this year.

'If Congress would authorize the suspension, by the President, of the writ of Habeas Corpus in certain localities, and if criminals could be arrested and tried before military tribunals and shot we should soon have peace and order throughout all this country.'—W. W. Holden.

John Pool proposed to put into the service a desperado named McLindsey, who would raise a company that 'would give Governor Holden no trouble, for that if any of the men arrested by him undertook any resistance he would kill them or they would be lost and never be heard of again;' and suggested that the Governor (Holden) should follow the example of Governor Clayton of Arkansas, 'who had taken military possession of disaffected counties and tried and executed large numbers of men by military court.'—R. C. Badger's sworn testimony.

'If he (Governor Holden) is ever personally menaced his friends will resent it and punish the man or men who may do it—if he is slain or even wounded, it is already determined that leading Democrats and Conservatives, who might be named, will be instantly put to death. The Governor's mind is made up.'—Ral. Standard

'Rally this last time and carry the election, and there will be no parlor and no kitchen.'—Neil McKay.

The pretension that any person or class may be prevented from resorting to a public place whose doors are open to all but them, and denied to them only on account of color or race, will not be tolerated by any court honestly and sincerely desirous of upholding the constitution and the laws according to their true intent and meaning. —Judge D. L. Russell.

And therefore, I say, if it were possible, as in the large cities it is possible to establish separate schools for black children and for white children, it is in the highest degree inexpedient to either establish or tolerate such schools.

The theory of human equality cannot be taught in families, taking into account the different conditions of the different members of the families composing human society; but in the public school, where children of all classes and conditions are brought together, this doctrine of human equality can be taught, and it is the chief means of securing the perpetuity of republican institutions. And in as much as we have in this country four million colored people, I assume that it is a public duty that they and the white people of the country, with whom they are to be associated in political and public affairs, shall be assimilated and made one in the fundamental idea of human equality. Therefore where it would be possible to establish distinct schools, I am against it as a matter of public policy.—Senator Boutwell.

By the treachery of Republican members of Congress, elected in large part by colored voters, the negro is continued an outlaw. Fortunately the negro has that ballot. He owes it to himself to use the ballot in punishing the treachery of the men whose treason to professed principles leaves him a victim to negro hate. Every ballot that shall be cast by colored men for the so-called Republicans who on Saturday night last voted against the passage of the Civil Rights bill will be regarded as so many endorsements of their treason. Our people are not the cowards to kiss the hand that smites them. They must not be led into the support of pretended friends by sophistry nor by intimidation. DEFEAT EVERY PRETENDED REPUBLICAN WHO VOTED AGAINST THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL. —Fred Douglas, negro President of Freedmen's Savings Bank.

We want the Civil Rights bill passed and enforced, and in the name of our dead soldiers we demand its passage. We demand that our wives and daughters shall ride in what vehicles they please, so long as they pay for the privilege. We demand that our children shall be admitted to the common schools of the country, and I want it shown to inflated white men that the colored man's blood is not inferior to the white man's blood. * * * We demand in the name of our dead colored soldiers that there be given to us complete and constant equality everywhere. Then we will exercise our judgment where we will go, and how far we shall go, if we are able to bear the expense. When we pay for a berth in a Pullman sleeping car we do not want to be shoved into a Jim Crow car. When we pay for a room at the Arlington Hotel we want to go there. Let our institutions be broad and deep; let us be masters of liberty on this continent.—John M. Langston, negro President of Howard University.

There is no more signal error than the supposition that the defeat of this bill tends to settle anything.

The bill now goes over, perhaps, to another session, but it will constantly reappear until the engagement of the country is fulfilled.—Harper's Weekly.

EX-SENATOR TRUMAN SMITH ON THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.

The New York Tribune publishes a letter from that veteran politician, Hon. TRUMAN SMITH, of connecticut, who figured prominently years ago, and who has now reached the age of eighty-three, to Senator BROWNLOW, expressing his concurrence in the latter's views on the subject of the civil rights bill. The letter is too long for our columns. We extract the following paragraphs:

While I should not feel myself justified in using language as strong as that which you have seen fit to adopt, yet I fully concur with you in the opinion that this measure is not only uncalled for at this time, but would be fraught with serious evils to both races, and particularly to the colored race. Having in view only the true interests and highest welfare of the latter, this measure, without a shadow of practicability in it, should not, in my judgment, have passed the Senate, and should be unhesitatingly rejected by the House when it comes before it at the next session. The evil at which it strikes, to wit, the prejudice of color, should be left for extirpation by means and causes which emancipation is certain ere long to bring into activity. It is not in the power of Congress, by an act of legislation, to stifle that prejudice, irrational and unchristian as it is, but it is in its power to break up, as we have good reason to believe this measure will, the whole common school system of the late slave-holding States, and remand the children of poor whites, a very numerous class, and of most, if not all, the blacks to their former condition of barbarism. But this is not all; its tendency will be to unite the great body, perhaps I should say all of the white race of that section, in political action against the colored race, and in such a contest the former are certain to obtain the ascendancy, unless South Carolina be an exception.

MATRIMONIAL FREAKS.

Very much married was that lady who married her twenty-second husband, who, in his turn had been married to twenty wives! There is an instance recorded at Bordeaux, in 1872, of a gentleman who had been married sixteen times. A woman named Elizabeth Nase, who died in Florence, in 1768, had been married to seven husbands. She was at the ripe age of seventy when last led to the hymeneal altar, and contrived to survive her 'beloved.' When on her death-bed, it it stated, she recalled the good and bad points of each of her husbands, and having partially weighed in her mind the pros and cons, she determined that the fifth claimed the highest merit, and ordered that her grave be with his. In 1768 a redoubtable pair were living in Essex, who had been married eighty-one years; the husband being one hundred and seven years old, and his spouse only four years his junior.

Deaths take place the world over at the rate of one every three seconds, and births at the rate of one every two seconds. There is a sense of profound relief in the thought that every time a man goes out of the world a baby and a half are coming into it.

The following are the sections of chapter 185, Laws of 1871-'72, relating to the registration of voters, re-enacted in section 12, of the act of assembly, above recited: (Chapter 185, Acts of Assembly 1871-'72.)

SECTION 6. Registrars shall be furhished with registration books, and it shall be their duty to revise the existing registration books of their precinct or township in such manner that said books shall show an accurate list of electors previously registered in such precinct or township, and still residing therein, without requiring such electors to be registered anew; and registrars shall also between the hours of sunrise and sunset on each day (Sunday's excepted) from the first Thursday in July, 1872, up to and including the day preceding the first Thursday in August, 1872, keep open said books for the registration of any electors residing in such precinct or township and entitled to registration whose names have never before been registered in such precinct or township or do not appear in the revised list.

Sec. 7. No elector shall be entitled to register or vote in any other precinct or township than the one in which he is an actual bona fide resident on the day of election and no certificates of registration shall be given.

Sec. 8. It shall be the duty of the registrars and judges of election to attend at the polling place of the township or precinct with the registration books on the Saturday preceeding the election from the hour of 9 o'clock A. M. until the hour of 5 o'clock P. M; when and where the said books shall be open for the inspection of the electors of the precinct or township, and any said electors shall be allowed to object to the name of any person appearing in said books. In case of any such objection, the Register shall enter upon his books, opposite the name of the person objected to, the word "challenged," and shall appoint a time and place on or before the election day where he, together with said Judges of Election, shall hear and decide said objection, giving due notice to the voter so objected to. Provided that nothing in this section contained shall be construed to prohibit the right of any elector to challenge or object to the name of any persons registered or offering to register at any time other than that above specified. If any person challenged or objected to shall be found not duly qualified, as provided in this act, or as provided in the constitution, the Registrar shall erase his name from the books.

Sec. 11. No registration shall be allowed on the day of election, but if any person shall give satisfactory evidence to the judges of the election that he has come of the age of twenty-one years on the day of election, or has for any other reason become on that day entitled to register, he shall be allowed to register and vote.

Sec. 15. Immediately after any election the judges of election shall deposit the registration books with the Register of Deeds for their respective counties.

Sec. 18. When the election shall be finished the registrar and judges of election, in presence of such of the electors as may choose to attend shall open the boxes and count the ballots, reading aloud the names of the persons who shall appear on each ticket; and if there shall be two or more tickets rolled up together or any ticket shall contain the names of more persons than such elector has a right to vote for, or shall have a device upon it, in either of these cases such ticket or tickets shall not be numbered in taking the ballot, but shall be void, and the said counting of votes shall be continued without adjournment until completed and the result thereof declared.

Sec. 28. The registrar shall receive one cent for each name copied from the original regulation book and three cents for each new name registered.

Sec. 29. Any registrar or judge or judges of election appointed under the provisions of this act, or any county commissioners, register of deeds or sheriff failing or neglecting to make the returns and perform the duties required of him by this act for the non performance of which no penalty has been hereinbefore imposed, shall be fined not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or imprisoned not more than six nor less than twelve months at the discretion of the Court.

Sec. 30. Any person who shall with intent to commit a fraud register, or vote at more than one box or more than one time, or who shall induce another to do so, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be imprisoned not less than six nor more than twelve months, or fined not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars at the discretion of the Court and any registrar of voters or any clerk or copyist who shall make any entry or copy with intent to commit a fraud, shall be liable to the same penalty.

A lady, well-known in the fashionable world of Paris, it is said, has for years been in the habit of seeing her physician daily. The physician always took his fee, but never had occasion to prescribe for his patient. He called recently, however, and was denied admittance. 'Monsieur le Doctor,' said the servant, 'Madam cannot receive to-day, she is indisposed.'

A NEWLY DISCOVERED NATION.

The campaign of Gen. Crook against the Apaches last year, opened to research a tract of land 200 miles square, which is rich in relics of our country's unknown past. It contains a chain of ancient cities in ruins and a coterie or ancient towns still inhabited by a race which holds itself aloof from Indian, Mexican and American; prides itself on its descent from the ancient inhabitants of the country, and maintains a religon and a government, both of which are peculiar to itself. We are indebted to Capt. W. C. Manning, of the regular army, for the facts in our possession concerning this newly-discovered race. Capt. Manning, who was with Gen. Crook during the whole campaign, and was recommended for promotion by the latter on account of gallantry in the field, explored in the intervals of fighting. He visited the inhabited towns, talked with their rulers, and informed himself concerning their customs.

The largest settlement is in New Mexico, about thirty miles south of the border line. It is a type of the rest. A strong wall surrounds it. Within are houses for about 4,000 people. The population has dwindled, however, to about 1,800.

THE PLACE WAS MENTIONED

by a Spanish Jesuit who published, in 1529, a description of his wandering in America. About 1535, another Jesuit wrote a minute account of it. This account is true in nearly every detail to day. The language resembles the Chinese. So an ardent archæologist, who visited the city a year ago, says. Some of the minor customs correspond to those of the Chinese. The women are of the true Celestial type; almond eyes, protuberant bodies, little feet, etc. They dress their hair and themselves in Chinese fashion. Their religion is barbarously magnificent. Montezuma is their deity. His coming is looked for at sunrise each day. Immortality is part of their creed. The priests have heavily-embroidered robes which have been used for unnumbered years. The ceremonies of worship are formal and pompous. The morality of this strange people, as far at least as foreigners are concerned, is irreproacable. It is probable that they keep a record of events by means of tying peculiar knots in long cords. This, if true, seems to establish some kinship or remote acquaintanceship between them and the Aztecs. Their government is

A CONSERVATIVE REPUBLIC.

Power is vested in a council of thirteen caciques. Six of them are selected for life. Old men are generally chosen, in order that their terms of office may not be inordinately long. The remaining seven are elected from time to time. One of them is the Executive. Another of them is a sort of Vice-President. There is a War-Chief, a Chief of Police, etc. These seven caciques are usually young men. They serve but a few months. Suffrage is universal. It is scarcely necessary to supplement these facts with the statement that these dwellers in towns are quite far advanced in civilization. On this point one fact speaks volumes. Woman is not a beast of burden among them as she is with all Indian tribes. She is held in high respect. Her tasks are confined to those of house-keeping.

The written records which we have mentioned show that this isolated community has maintained its traditions unbroken for at least three and a half centuries. Its history, carefully studied, may prove a clue to the problem of the aboriginal Americans. The mound-builders of the North and the city-builders of the South may be represented in the town-dwellers of New Mexico and Arizona.—Chicago Tribune.

KISSENGIN, July 13.—While Prince Bismarck was driving in the country to-day he was fired at by a young man, the ball grazing his wrist and inflicting a slight wound. The would-be assassin was promptly arrested and was with difficulty protected from lynching by the people. He has not been identified.

THE WOULD-BE ASSASSIN IDENTIFID.

BERLIN, July 13.—The identity of the would-be assassin of Prince Bismarck has been established. His name is Kullman. He belongs to Magdeburg, and is a cooper by trade. He is a member of the Catholic Journeymen's Society of that city, and has been observed of late frequently in the company of a Catholic priest.

MCCONNELSBURG, PA; July 13.—Early yesterday morning Mrs. John Woots, residing about ten miles south of this place; while laboring under a state of mental aberration, seized a gun, and while her husband was still sleeping, shot and killed him instantly. Then, with a razor, inflicted horrible wounds on the heads and necks of her children, and with a pitchfolk almost killed another of her children. They are still in a critical condition.

WHO CAN BE DECEIVED.

John Kerr was nominated at Graham with a unanimity so thorough, that the idea of hostility to his candidacy seemed one of the remotest possibilities.

Why was this unanimity?

It is not difficult to answer. He was known throughout the district, almost personally, to every man in it.

It was not requisite to hunt through rusty records for proof of his legal ability, of his eloquence, of his high personal character, and of his distinguished services to the State in many capacities. He had been on the bench before, and had given substantial proof of his ability as a judge, and of his purity and impartiality as a dispenser of justice.

Was there anything in the character of John Kerr, anything in his previous history, that could give color to these new fears for the liberties of the people, these new anxieties for the purity of the bench? It is true, that during a recent period of our history, the memory of which cannot soon be effaced, Judge Kerr was a special mark for the malice of the opposition. His resistance to the upstart tyranny of those disgraceful days drew upon him the vengeance of the powers in existence. But if he was dragged before the petty military tyrant, if he was insulted, if he was imprisoned, even though he cannot forget his injuries, if it to thought possible that his resentments shall accompany his return to the bench, and that he shall wreak his vengeance wholesale upon a party, the tools of which in former years were the instruments of his humiliation?

Those who know (and they are thousands) the magnanimity of John Kerr know that though the iron did enter deep into his proud soul, it left no rankling barb, for the mitigation of whose sting indiscriminate revenge was needed. Those who know him, know that by his nomination justice was done to him, justice done to the people of the district, and a decided step taken towards the restoration of the bench to its former purity and trustworthiness.

Why then, in the face of a belief so general, does Col. Ruffin come into the field? Does he not know, as a lawyer of the old school, with whom pride of position, thorough training in, and reliance upon, the established principles of law, an elevation above corrupt influences and personal interests, make partiality almost impossible, that John Kerr, no more than himself could be swerved from the strict line of duty, and that in offering himself as a candidate, he promised no more than he had good reason to know John Kerr would have performed?

As a Conservative, he would do a grievous wrong to Judge Kerr, to the Conservative party, and to himself.

But can he be regarded as a Conservative, who jeopardizes the integrity of that party by intrusion into the field, and that under the auspices of the party most interested in overthrowing the Conservative strength in the district? Has not Col. Ruffin played so skilfully into the hands of the radicals, have not his movements tallied so exactly with theirs, as to entitle to the name, if he does not assume it himself of radical?

Does not Col. Ruffin know as well as any body else, that if he had received the nomination instead of Judge Kerr, that he would have been the target for the same shafts? That the radicals would have tampered, with some other disappointed aspirant, and raised the same cry of partizanship against him?

No one can really be deceived, either by Col. Ruffin's professions of impartiality, or the radical anxiety about partizanship. It is a radical victory that is wanted, and Col. Ruffin offers himself the ready instrument to achieve it. provided he can draw to him, in addition to the white radicals, all the negroes, and a portion of his relations who would naturally adhere to him, a large mass of the conservative voters who can be deluded into the belief that the defeat of a regular nominee is a conservative victory, and that the election of a so-called independent by radical votes, and in radical interests, is not a radical triumph.

Who will be misled? Who will suffer the dust to be thrown into their eyes? Who are ready to be the laughing stock of the radicals, who after the election, if they should carry their point, will be prompt to throw off the mask, and deride the simple gulls who so innocently fell into the snare.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Mr. Davis and Mr. Headen, the opposing candidates for Congress, met in the Court House in this place on Saturday. The house was well filled with white and colored, and there was a full opportunity to weigh and contrast the respective merits of the two gentlemen. We are sure that Capt. Davis' friends had no reason to regret the comparison.

Mr. Headen opened the discussion. The first part of his speech was a repetition of the one made here before, being taken up with a definition of his own position, the usual charges against the democratic party of hostility to the government, opposition to reconstruction, continued agitation, secret organizations &c. all of which was spun out by note to give him time to collect his thoughts for the great point of attack—the responsibility of the Conservative party for the Civil Rights bill! Surely Mr. Headen must have thought his audience were all "we colored people," who had not been a part of the history of the past, who had not read, who had not remembered, who had not watched the progress of events. There was something so shallow and specious in the attempt to make the support of Mr. Greely by the democrats at the last presidential election, a complete detachment of him from all his life long republican principles, a democrat in full communion, and that consequently all his wild and ultra views become essentially the creed of the democratic party, that there was a feeling of pity that a speaker could be weak enough to put forth such things by way of serious argument. It is not worth while to notice or comment farther on this point.

So far as Mr. Headen was individually concerned, he says he is opposed to the bill, and that is all his colored friends want to know to shake them off from allegiance to the party.

Mr. Headen puts great stress upon a new idea of his—that the democratic party is committed to the question of paying the owners of slaves lost through emancipation. This is only introduced as a set off to his opposition to Civil Rights, as a means of conciliating the negro. It was another one of Mr. Headens strange subjects to bring before an intelligent audience, because if there is an issue as remote from practical application as this it would be hard to discover.

Mr. Headen's whole speech was a dead failure, because it convinced no body who could reason, and it disappointed the only class who could hope, and he concluded with the fiat of defeat clearly gone forth against him.

Mr. Davis reply was a complete an extinguisher to Mr. Headen as it was possible to conceive. He took Mr. Headen up where he left off; on the compensation for slaves. He showed that there was not a particle of proof hinted at, that such a project was entertained by anybody as a party measure, and that neither a white man nor a negro with a particle of brains could entertain the idea.

Mr. Davis' review of Mr. Headen's record as a politician, and as a republican was scathing and thorough. Mr. Headen attempt, professing unswerving devotion to the Union, before and since the war, convicted himself, in both periods, of insincerity. He says now, that though he signed the ordinance of secession, his judgment did not approve the deed. But he sustained all the acts of the Convention: he voted for Mr. Badger's resolutions, which arraigned the republican party as the authors of the war. He voted for the confiscation of the property of men opposed to the South. He was a candidate for the Confederate Congress, was that to embarrass the Confederacy after the fashion of some other eminent disciples of his party? He voted for Jeff. Davis for President, was that a sign of devotion to the Union. After the war Mr. Headen claims to have returned to his first love. How long, asked Mr. Davis, was he getting back to it? Nine years; for up to 1872 Mr. Headen was acting mainly with the Conservatives, and in 1872 was the sub-elector for the county of Chatham on the Greeley ticket. The truth is, that as a republican, Mr. Headen is shown to be unsound, because by his own showing, there is no one cardinal principle that he has not at one time or another disapproved. The Union party at first uncompromisingly opposed negro suffrage. It now advocates civil rights, which Mr. Headen affects to denounce.

Mr. Davis' speech places Mr. Headen in the position of a weak, vacillating man, uncertain of his principles, courting power and popularity, but ignorant of the means of winning them, striving desperately to the white man by opposing what he knows is hostile to his interests, but working hard to keep the favor of the colored man by an under current of flattery and deception. If Mr. H. has not added to the conservative strength in Orange, we are much mistaken, for his own party admitted the weakness of his effort, and the vast superiority of Mr. Davis. And we know Mr. Davis added greatly to his own reputation here, and greatly increased the probabilities of his own election. We have now no fears for the result, and believe Orange will give her full vote in the coming election.

DROPPING IT.

The civil rights bill is getting too hot for the radical candidates to hold. They drop it like a hot potato. They go so far as to say they never liked it, that they never wanted it and in their virtuous hostility to it, had dropped Horace Greeley because he advocated it. They charge upon the democrats the introduction of the subject into this campaign, for the purpose of stirring up strife between the races.

They assume to speak for the negro, and tell him he does not want civil rights, much in the same tone and spirit that a mother tells an ailing child that it does not want an apple, or some other coveted, but injurious, object of desire. But the civil rights bill is to the negro what "forty acres and a mule" were some years ago, the thing of promise, and of hope. The negro has grown in experience and expansion of desires, and "civil rights" as promised by the Sumner bill embraces every earthly wish and expectation. He wont be relieved by soft words. He will hardly relish the advice of his white radical nurses that civil rights is "not good for him."

Well, they may be trifled with a little longer, but a few more like disappointments, a few more cases of hope deferred, and "our colored friends' will become somewhat intractable allies

This gentleman has confined his canvass of late principally to the West. There will be no doubt of his election we think. There can be none, if the people recognize the importance of having at the head of the bureau of Public Instruction a man of mature years, of ripe judgment, of ripe scholarship, and of experience in the education of youth. On the other side is a young man, of amiable character, but of no experience whatever; so young indeed, that it would appear that he was merely put on the ticket to save some more wary politician the disaster of defeat.

Make your vote for Col. Pool as certain as that for your Congressman, your Judge, and your county officers.

INFAMOUS.

Judge McKay, of South Carolina, in passing sentence upon a negro convicted of firing a house and burning up a negro child therein, accompanied his sentence with a protest against the certain anticipated action of Governor Moses, who pardons out as a matter of course the most atrocious criminals that he may retain all his adherents and lose none of his votes.

The protest of the Judge, and the infamy of the Governor are without parrallel in judicial and executive history.

But this is full blown, unadulterated radical rule, unchecked by sound public opinion, and unrestrained by a higher authority, which has assumed to interfere in State affairs when it suited its own interests. What does the recent reported indignation of President Grant amount to in the face of the contemptuous disregard to the appeal and protest of the best and most intelligent citizens of South Carolina, respectfully submitted to Congress, or the rude repulse by Gen. Grant of a delegation of citizens of the same State, who essayed to lay before him some details of the awful misgovernment of their State?

Who believes that we in North Carolina will be any freer any richer, any happier, under the full return of a rule which her people have partially shaken off? The effort is being made to fasten it on us again, and independent candidates are giving a helping hand to that end.

Don't trust them. If you would be free from South Carolina's curse.

WHO CALLED OUT COL RUFFIN.

Not the Conservatives certainly. They nominated Judge Kerr. The radicals did it. If they did not openly nominate him in convention, they opened the way for his candidancy so clearly, that he could not fail to accept the bid. They made Judge Tourgee resign after he had announced himself, and there cannot be a moral doubt that Col Ruffin comes out with the clear understanding that he is to have the undivided Radical vote. In truth, the zeal of the radical papers and speakers is a full admission of this. The object is to defeat the nomination of the Democratic Convention.

Can any conservative consistently support him? can any conservative permit himself to be decieved by shallow pretences? Is not Col Ruffin most unequivocally the candidate of the radical party, if not a radical himself? How can he ask or expect conservative votes,

Let him have none, but let the whole strength be cast for John Kerr.

☞ Col. John F. Hoke has fully and unequivocally withdrawn, and now Mr. Schenck has no Independent candidate opposed to him for the Judgeship.

Telegraph Office.

When the election is over, and our towns-people have leisure to think of other things, we hope they will think of our suggestion of last week, and call a public meeting for the purpose of urging the reopening of the telegraph office here. Our own business demands it. The necessities of the community make it indispensable. There are four schools here and in the vicinity to whom it may become at any moment, of most vital necessity. There are always a large number of strangers here in the summer and fall who would desire to be in constant communication with their friends if need be. It is too important a subject to suffer to rest.

A CARD.

To the Electors of the Seventh Judicial District of North Carolina:

I RESPECTFULLY announce that I am a candidate for the office of Judge at this ensuing election.

I have been determined to take this step by the advice of many personal friends and the solicitations of persons, belonging to the several political parties in the District, who profess themselves desirous of having the law administered without reference to Party.

Being incapable of soliciting votes for such an office, upon the score of party prejudices, I should make no allusion at all to that subject if it had not been charged in some of the Public Prints (in advance of any publicity expressed purpose of mine to become a candidate), that I had changed my party affiliations, in the hope of reward from those, to whom as is well known, I have hitherto been opposed.

Such a charge is alike unjust to me, and to those who make it, and I here give it my most positive denial. There never has been a day, and there can never come a day in my life when I have been, or can be, willing to separate my fortunes from those of this good people of my native State, with whom I have so long and so earnestly associated.

In conclusion, I beg to assure the whole people of this District, that in the event of my election to so honorable and important an office, I will use my best efforts to discharge its duties faithfully, by an equal, just and impartial administration of the Law.

Apologetic.

Absence from home in company with the County candidates for every day but one of the last week, and a probable absence during the whole of this, must be our excuse for the want of a variety of matter, and the tame of the preparation, which our readers will no doubt detect. And it must also excuse typographical errors which may possibly be found, which we cannot personally correct, and which are inseparable from the proverbially bad manuscript of the average editor.

Harvest Closed.

This school is daily adding to its numbers. There are now eighty pupils in attendance and that number will soon be increased probably to one hundred.

We are compelled to omit market reports this week.

Levy's new Ad. next week. A press of job work excludes that and other new advertisements.

John Allen Blake the negro violator of Miss Haley was hung in Raleigh on Friday, just thirty two days after the commission of the offence.

A good rain began to fall on Sunday which it is hoped will save the corn crop, and be of great service to Tobacco.

Rev. Charles Phillips.

This distinguished divine has been on a visit to his old home at Chapel Hill, and has preached there several times. He preached at New Hope Church on Sunday, and in Hillsboro on Sunday night.

The School of Misses Nash and Miss Rollock opened last week with good prospects for a full attendance.

Wounded.

Much anxiety was created in this community on Friday by the reception of a telegram giving information of the cutting or wounding in Mississippi of Duncan Cameron, eldest son of Mr. P. C. Cameron of this place. No particulars are given. A subsequent dispatch represents the injuries as less serious than at first believed. It is hoped that there is no real reason for apprehension as to the result.

The radicals put a debt on us, which added to the ante-war debt of eight millions, now amounts to nearly forty millions of dollars. Mr Brown and Mr. Strayhorn tell us the Judges all say we must pay it all—it is all equally binding, who are the Judges? They are of the same party that made the debt. Have the people any reason to love the radical party, or to get them back into power again?

Tobacco Crop.

The tobacco crop all over the country is thought to be the worst for forty years.

We expect this week to see the best tobacco region of this county, and will be able to speak from observation and reliable information.

We wonder what success Mr Headen had in getting his sheep here on Saturday? It strikes us that there are many old rams in his flock who won't touch his salt. Mr Headen with his salt, and Mr Brown with his soothing syrup, will have hard work to bring a tractable crowd to the polls on election day.

What do the people say to Mr Strayhorn's idea of taxing them $2 on the hundred dollars for the support of common schools? are they ready to adopt it, especially in connection with the proposition of his party to make schools common to white and black alike? the civil rights bill?

St. Nicholas

For August is at hand, and puts in a new bid for public favor. It should be taken by every family where there are children to be instructed as well as amused.

Judge Pearson.

We are glad to learn that Judge Pearson has rapidly improved, and is now said to be in fair health. He will soon open his law school. The reports of his illness at Raleigh were exaggerated or at least the gravity of the case was over estimated for he was in truth at one time very ill.

Col. George Williamson.

This gentleman spoke both at Cedar Grove and at Hillsboro, and made an excellent impression. He is now as a campaigner in civil strife, but is a good speaker, well informed, and with his sterling integrity and honesty of purpose, has not failed to impress the people of the district that they have been fortunate in their choice of one to represent them in the State Senate.

Mill Burned.

The still-house of Dr. James F. Cole situated eight or ten miles from town, was burned on Friday last week. There were ten or twelve barrels of whiskey in the house, whether that was destroyed with the building or hauled out previous to the burning, is unknown. The fire was clearly incendiary, as the still had not been in use for some time.

The County Commissioners.

During this campaign the candidates for County Commissioner has taken an active interest in the canvass, and have given much valuable information to the County in their several speeches. Mr. N. Y. Hall has been particularly intelligent and instructive in this respect, and has been mainly instrumental in demonstrating the very important relation the board bears to County affairs and given proof how necessary it is to select faithful and intelligent men for the position.

It is gratifying to learn how nearly the county is out of debt, how wisely its finances have been administered, and how fearly the people are being relieved from burdensome county taxation. But for the necessity of building important bridges, which by their construction, add largely to the revenue of the county there would be no debt, and the tax on the poll would have been much reduced even below its present great reduction.

Mr Hall presented an exhibit of the affairs of the poor house which reflects much credit both on the sagacity and fidelity of the Commissioners, and upon the good management of Mr. Elmore Fawcett, the superintendent of the Institution. The charges on the county have been reduced from $1850 a year to about $1000. The farm which produced at the time Mr Fawcett took charge, two bushels of wheat, and seventeen of corn, last year turned of forty three bushels of wheat, and upwards of two hundred bushels of corn, besides oats, potatoes &c. The stock of hogs and cattle has largely increased. Only one laborer a boy is hired by the Board the rest of the labor being supplied by Mr Fawcett with such aid as he can sometimes derive from the inmates.

Mrs. Fawcett the wife of Mr F. has rendered most efficient aid as will appear by the following.

Within the last two years she has made 478 yards cloth for shirting, dresses, and counterpanes; 189 yards cotton jeans for bed-ticketing, men's clothing &c; 50 yards woolen jeans; 75 yards of calico were bought with the proceeds of surplus dried fruit. Sixty six yards of the warp of the above cloth was spun at the Poor House, and twenty six bunches of thread were furnished by the county.

Speaking at Cedar Grove.

On Friday in company with the County candidates, Mr. Davis made his appearance before the people of Orange. There was a large crowd in attendance, and we confess we have never seen a better impression made upon an audience than was made by our gallant champion. Mr. Davis is perfectly free from claptrap, and is so natural, so easy, and at the same time so fair, and so earnest, that every mind was with him. Even the negroes, to whom he spoke plainly and forcibly on the subject of Civil rights, heard him with pleasure, and seemed to yield to his arguments. At any rate, they were fully convinced of the fraud practiced upon them by their own party leaders, and did not disguise the feeling of resentment that they had been made fools and tools of.

We are satisfied that Mr. Davis will get the full strength of Orange. With careful inquiry, we could find or hear of, no dissentients in our own party, and we will be mistaken if the painful contrast presented by Mr. Headen will not draw some of the Republicans to Mr. Davis support. It is clear, that the negro vote is not at all secure on this Civil rights question.

Other engagements deprived us of the pleasure of hearing Mr. Brown on Saturday. We learn that he devoted most of his time to the discussion of the State debt, in the treatment of which he agrees with Mr. Strayhorn.

Not so much of the Civil rights, here in Hillsboro, as elsewhere. Too many colored men.

Mr. Brown has some strange remedies for the salvation of the country. He says that the Radical party is full of "niggers, and thieves," and the only way to save it and the country is for the Conservatives to join it. The logic might be Mr. Headen's. The rhetoric is all Mr. Brown's.

Distressing Casualty.

Mr Jehial Atwater, a young man aged about 21 years and son of Mr Matthew Atwater the present candidate for the Legislature, was fatally kicked by a mule on Thursday morning and died from the effects of the injury on Friday morning. Mr A had gone into the stables to release a young mule which in some way had become entangled, when an old mule in the the same stall, alarmed or irritated kicked him full in the left side, just below the ribs. Medical attendance was at once obtained, both from the country, and from this place but without avail. The father of the young man, then in the midst of the canvass, was sent for, and the messenger found him at Cedar Grove, but he reached home after the fatal issue.

It is truly a distressing calamity and one that has plunged a large circle of friends and relations, into profound grief, and excited the sympathies of the entire community.

The Judicial Contest.

The Era is comforted with the reports he gets from its own side of the house about Col. Ruffin's prospects. Let the Era whistle and keep up its courage. We can tell him that his information about Orange and Alamance is altogether at fault. Possibly in two precincts Col. Ruffin may get a good many Orange Conservatives. In Alamance he will not do so well, and in Caswell, Rockingham, Randolph, Chatham and Person few but his new allies will be found on his side. John Kerr is in no danger whatever.

County Candidates.

The campaign began regularly at Smith's on Wednesday last, and is in active progress at time of this writing. So far it has been conducted with decorum, courtesy and good feeling, and nothing promises to disturb the harmony of the canvass. To be sure our candidates are very outspoken in their assaults upon the radical camp, and one at least of the opposing candidates gets a little riled sometimes, because he can't get everybody to see exactly as he does. But Mr. Brown is an exception, anyway, and very soon recovers his good humor.

The county officers, proper, lead the way in opening the ball, and without going into oratorical display, show their fitness for the offices they aspire to by plain sensible statements. The County Commissioners, it is true have departed somewhat from their usual custom, we think, to great advantage, as we have shown in another article.

Mr. Parish for the Senate, exhibits very considerable powers of oratory, a thorough acquaintance with the topics of the day and a most effective power of enforcing his arguments. He has shown that he is an antagonist to be feared, and the impression that he makes everywhere is decisive of his success.

Mr. Brown is the "Mother Winslow" of the group, lullilling, or trying to lull, the soothing balm of his syrup into the minds and memories of his hearers; and gets a little mad that everybody does not fall into an oblivion of the past under his opiates. He is finding it an up hill work to convince the Conservatives that they are responsible for the Civil Rights bill and that the republics, poor innocent souls, are, and always have been, opposed to it. Really it is too rich to hear his arguments on this subject, and hear his pathetic appeal for peace and harmony, and good will, as if we could ever forget, where all present suggestions of discontent and apprehension. Verily the Civil rights bill is one of those engines which has returned to plague the inventors.

Mr. I. R. Strayhorn is the financial orator. He takes up the public debt question with a grip that reminds one of the comprehensive genius of Alexander Hamilton. He dodges no issue, but he don't spare the people. He tells us that we can't get off from paying the whole of the public debt, special tax-bonds and all, under some system of compromise, to embrace all classes of the bonds on the same footing. It is not much comfort to the people to hear Mr. Strayhorn tell them that they can't get off; that a debt settled upon them by a radical legislator is pronounced by a radical judiciary to be forever valid and binding, though common sense, common honesty, and the common sentiment of the world, has pronounced the Special tax bonds conceived in iniquity, and squandered in corruption.

Mr. Brown agrees with Mr. Strayhorn. Both of them being sure of defeat can afford to put on the air of virtuous statesmen, and honest guardians of the fame of the State.

Mr. Guthrie is the Republican. He comes out squarely and flat footed for repudiation without caring how he crushes brother Brown's and brother Strayhorn's toes of how he defies party discipline. He is about the only independent man we have seen, and is only seditious to ventilate his own opinions, without caring a copper for those of the others.

Mr Atwater, up to the period he was called home by the distressing accident to his son, was winning golden opinions, his speeches being eminently manly, sensible and satisfactory. He shows that he can speak well when he will, though a silent member of the Legislature.

Mr Latta is brief but pointed.

Our friend Caleb Green, candidate for Commissioner, launched out into a pretty extensive field of discussion, and made a very able exposition of the present condition of affairs. He gained a very enviable reputation as a speaker, and will add much to the eclat of the campaign and the success of the ticket.

To the Weak, the Worn and the Weary, the editor of the Boston Recorder says: "We can most unhesitatingly recommend the Peruvian syrup, a protected solution of the protoxide of iron, to all the weak, the worn, and the weary, having richly experienced its benefits. It possesses all the qualities claimed for it by its proprietor."

☞ Our Manufacturers must have Tobacco this week or next. Prices are high. Bring it in at once, and I will insure you a Good Price.

June 30th 1874. J. R. GATTIS.

ROXBORO, N. C. July 6th, 1874.

Maj. S. C. Barnett:

SIR, Having received through you, notice of my nomination, as candidate for Senator of this District, I think proper to answer through you.

I respectfully decline the nomination for the following reasons. I never accept at the hands of any convention any nomination, for I have seen in conventions of all parties, that individual preference—not the will of the party prevails, and nominations are frequently obtained by the heavy efforts of the aspirant. I therefore decline rather than have a place that is so repeatedly plastered as above stated.

I hold however, that is the rights of free men, to vote for any one to fill any office, and should my fellow-citizens see proper to so honor me—I shall not take the liberty of refusing to perform the trusts and duties of any office from that of Coroner of Person County to the highest. I prefer however, remaining at home and thinking and acting on political questions independently. I have attended but one political discussion this year and from what I then heard—I take the liberty of advising all voters, to vote against any candidate who advocates a plan or course that will result in white or black man parties.

Should the people at any time desire it, it will afford me great pleasure to present my views on all the political questions.

Yours Truly,

H. L. BUMPASS.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases.

Certificates by thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Iron in the Blood

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.
